Field Trip Rashtrapati Nilayam

Rashtrapati Nilayam, formerly known as Residency House, the official winter retreat for the President of India is located in Hyderabad, Telangana. Opened to the public, this historic site offers visitors a glimpse of its vast grounds, themed gardens, and architectural beauty.

On 6th November 2024, our students of classes 8 to 10 explored this unique estate. Students were fascinated by the features like a separate kitchen and dining hall which were connected by a tunnel. This tunnel was recently restored with Telangana's Cherial folk art, emphasizing cultural preservation.

The Nilayam also includes enclaves dedicated to independence heroes and Hyderabad's history. The new Maze Garden and musical fountain provide a delightful experience for young visitors, making this estate a blend of history and enjoyment.

Students impress at Radio Jockey contest

"Vibe with the Mike, Shine on the Stage!"

Schools are platforms for students to explore and enhance their talents, and Jubilee Hills Public School-Rampally exemplified this with its Radio Jockey (RJ) competition. Students from classes VI to X participated enthusiastically, showcasing their skills in witty introductions, mock interviews, motivational talks, and thought-provoking messages.

The event aimed to teach students how to use their voices effectively to captivate audiences. It encouraged them to step out of their comfort zones, enhancing confidence and creativity while fostering skills like spontaneity, articulation, and humour. Students learned the importance of speaking with clarity and enthusiasm—traits valuable for any future public communication.

The competition went beyond entertainment, boosting self-confidence and promoting teamwork. Many students who initially felt hesitant discovered newfound assurance, experimenting with creative ways to engage listeners. The event also underscored essential time management skills, crucial for broadcasting.

The performances were marked by originality, humour, and voice modulation that impressed the audience and judges alike. A panel evaluated participants on content creativity, clarity, confidence, and engagement. The event concluded with judges commending the students' efforts, and winners were awarded certificates and trophies.

The RJ competition not only provided a fun-filled experience but also equipped students with essential life skills, inspiring them to become confident communicators in all aspects of life.

● Goshala visit: The visit to the Goshala was a highlight for many children, who delighted in seeing the cows up close and learning about their care and cultural significance. Caretakers shared interesting details about the cows' diet and the products they provide, such as milk. Feeding the cows brought moments of joy and laughter to the group.

The Pre-Primary field trip was an enriching experience for young learners as they explored fields, a Goshala (cow shelter), and a local temple. Each stop provided unique learning opportunities that sparked curiosity and enhanced understanding.

● Visit to the fields: The first stop was the fields, where children learned about various crops and the importance of agriculture. Through hands-on activities, they identified plants and gained insights into the origins of food. Educators led discussions about nature, farming, and the environment, showcasing the agricultural process in an engaging manner.

cows' diet and the products they provide, such as milk. Feeding the cows brought moments of joy and laughter to the group.

● Temple visit: The final stop was a local temple, where children learned about spiritual and cultural practices. They discovered the significance of rituals and the temple's role within the community. The serene atmosphere provided moments for reflection, and stories about the temple's history captivated their attention.

The field trip was both educational and fun, with children enthusiastically participating at each location.

A glimpse into heritage and sustainability

Students from classes VIII to X of Jubilee Hills Public School, Rampally, visited Rashtrapati Nilayam, one of the presidential retreats in Hyderabad, for an educational excursion. The trip aimed to enhance students' understanding of the life and duties of the President while also familiarising them with key national heritage and sustainable practices.

During their visit, students had the unique opportunity to explore the historic art gallery, which showcased glimpses of all past presidents of India, providing them with a visual timeline of the country's rich presidential history. The gallery also featured awards and ceremonial gifts received by various presidents, giving students an insight into the cultural and diplomatic significance of these tokens.

The visit proved to be an enriching experience, giving the students a deeper understanding of India's presidential heritage and the importance of sustainable resource management.
